Navigating Partnerships Between Academia and Faith-Based Organizations

Join the Center for Clinical and Translational Science (CCTS) Community Engagement Institute (CEI) for a virtual panel discussion as we explore the opportunities and challenges of collaboration between academic research and faith-based organizations. Panelists will discuss how these partnerships can advance community engagement, social impact, and shared research goals.

PANEL MODERATOR

JaiGregory Clarke
Faith in Action Alabama
Birmingham Lead Organizer

Designed for researchers, healthcare professionals, and community members, this event will provide a dynamic conversation on building trust, fostering mutual respect, and creating meaningful, ethical partnerships across sectors.
