

Measurement & Evaluation | Community Health Coaches

UAB Comprehensive Healthy Living Research Center

About the Center

The Healthy Living Center is where research meets the real world to prevent disease and improve health. The Center advances community-engaged research, provides professional development, and delivers practical solutions for healthy living.

How We Can Help

Programs

Research

Partnerships &
Engagement

Education & Career
Development

Cores

Participant
Access to Research

Measurement
& Evaluation

Community
Health Coach

Community-
Based Participatory
Research

This infrastructure reinforces and streamlines the research process, reduces complexity, and increases transparency across complex, multi-level, multi-partner studies.

Measurement & Evaluation

- Consult on use of validated measures, statistical designs, and methods for research
- Assist with development of survey instruments
- Support the development of interview and focus group guides
- Conduct quantitative and qualitative analysis
- Provide program evaluation design and implementation

Community Health Coaches

- Consult on proposal development related to community coach services
- Provide trained and certified community health coaches
 - Study and clinical trial promotion and education
 - Document services and data collection
 - Study intervention delivery and support
 - Health navigation and community health worker services in community and health care settings

